ABOUT THE AUTHORS

CONTEXT AND REGIONAL PERSPECTIVES

AUTHORS

Osamu Abe is based at the College of Sociology and Graduate School of Intercultural Communication, Rikkyo University, Japan. He is also the Director of Rikkyo University’s ESD Research Centre; the President of the Japanese Society of Environmental Education; the Chair of the Board of the Japan Council on the UN Decade of ESD (ESD-J); a board member of the Japan Environmental Education Forum and a member of the Commission on Education and Communication, the World Conservation Union (IUCN).

Javier Benayas is a Professor of Ecology at the Autonomous University of Madrid, where he was Vice-President of Campus and Environmental Quality from 2003 to 2009. In 2003, he promoted the creation of the Sectoral Commission on Environmental Quality and Sustainable Development and Risk Prevention (CADEP) at the Conference of Rectors of Spanish Universities (CRUE). He is currently its Executive Secretary. Since 2000, he has been the coordinator of the Interuniversity PhD programme ‘Environmental Education’ which is being taught by nine Spanish universities.

Lester R. Brown started his career as a farmer, growing tomatoes with his younger brother during high school and college. Shortly after earning a degree in agricultural science in 1955, he spent six months living in rural India where he became intimately familiar with the food/population issue. From 1964 to 1969, he worked for the Secretary of Agriculture’s department. Afterwards, he left government to help establish the Overseas Development Council.

In 1974, he founded the Worldwatch Institute, the first research institute devoted to the analysis of global environmental issues. In 2001, he founded the Earth Policy Institute to provide a vision and a road map for achieving an environmentally sustainable economy.

He is the recipient of many prizes and awards. More recently, he was awarded the Borgström Prize by the Royal Swedish Academy of Agriculture and Forestry, and was selected one of Foreign Policy’s Top Global Thinkers of 2010.

Heather Elliott is a Master of Environmental Studies Candidate at Dalhousie University, Canada. Her thesis research focused on investigating the conceptualizations of student leaders concerning sustainability and sustainable universities. She is now designing the first module of a new Sustainability Certificate programme for university employees.

Heila Lotz-Sisitka holds the Murray & Roberts Chair of Environmental Education and Sustainability at Rhodes University. She has actively contributed to the inclusion of environment and human rights concerns in South Africa’s National Curriculum Statement. She serves on UNESCO’s International Reference Group of the UN DESD and is editor of the Southern African Journal of Environmental Education. She coordinates the Environmental Education programme at Rhodes University and served as the Scientific Chair of the World Environmental Education Congress in 2007.

Ko Nomura is an Associate Professor at the Graduate School of Environmental Studies, Nagoya University, Japan. His research interests have been in the fields of environmental politics and environmental education in East Asia, particularly the role of environmental non-governmental organizations. Previously, he held research positions at Rikkyo University’s ESD Research Centre and the Institute for Global Environmental Strategies. He has also worked on development assistance activities in Southeast Asia, particularly Indonesia.

Jos H.A.N. Rikers is a Senior Policy Adviser International Relations at the Open University in the Netherlands. He started his academic career as a researcher at Twente University’s School of Education. In 1990, he began to work at the Open University of the Netherlands, where he has held several positions. Since 2001, he has been a senior policy adviser to the university’s Executive Board on both sustainable development and international relations. In 2004, he helped found the Rhine-Meuse RCE, a regional centre of expertise on learning for sustainable development. He is a member of the city of Kerkrade’s Climate Advisory Council.

Orlando Sáenz is a PhD of Education and Society Candidate at the UAB. He is a researcher at the University of Applied and Environmental Sciences (UDCA) and coordinator of the Alliance of Ibero-American Networks of Universities for Sustainability and the Environment as the Colombian Network of Environmental Training (RCFA) representative. He also coordinates the Network of Research on Science, Technology, Innovation and Environmental Education for Ibero-America (CTIE-AMB).

Ramzi Salamé is Delegate of the Rector of Saint-Joseph University (Beirut) for Quality Assurance, his professional life started as a teacher in Lebanon. Between 1994 and 2008, he worked as senior specialist of HE and acting director for the UNESCO Regional Bureau for Education in the Arab States. He has served as principal consultant for the reorganization of the Ministry of Education and Higher Education in Lebanon and principal consultant to the UN Group regarding the reform of the education and higher education systems in Iraq. He also contributed to the First Arab Knowledge Report published in 2009 by UNDP and the Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum Foundation.

Geert de Snoo is director of the Institute of Environmental Sciences of Leiden University and full professor in Conservation Biology. His main fields of research are related to the impact of human activities on biodiversity and environmental quality and the sustainable development of rural areas. He is an endowed professor at Wageningen University in the field of Nature Conservation on Farmland. He is also a member of the Dutch Board for Authorization of Plant Protection Products and Biocides in Wageningen.

Daniella Tilbury is a Research Chair in the area of leadership, change management and education for sustainability in higher education. She has been the recipient of several awards including the Macquarie Innovation Award for Research (2007) and a Marie Curie International Research Fellowship (2009) as well as a Green Gown Award (2010) for Institutional Change. She was the Founding Director of the Australian Research Institute in Education for Sustainability, which pioneered learning based change across government, education and business. She serves as Chair of the UN’s Global Monitoring and Evaluation Expert’s Group, which advises on the assessment of progress during the UN Decade in ESD, and is a member of the UNECE Expert Group on ESD competences. She is also Co-Chair of the Sustainable Futures Academy (Austria) and a Fellow of the Leadership Trust (UK). Professor Tilbury resides in the United Kingdom, where she is Director of Sustainability at the University of Gloucestershire, responsible for the university’s sustainability strategy and performance.

Rietje van Dam-Mieras is Vice-Rector Magnificus at Leiden University, where she holds the chair ‘Sustainable Development and Innovation of Education’. She also holds the UNESCO chair ‘Knowledge Transfer for Sustainable Development Supported by ICTs’ at the Open University of the Netherlands. She has worked at Maastricht University and the Open University of the Netherlands where she became professor in ‘Natural sciences, especially biochemistry and biotechnology’ in 1993. She is actively involved in the RCE initiative of United Nations University as a member of the Ubuntu Committee of Peers for RCEs. In 2010 she became a member of the Dutch national UNESCO Committee.

Tarah Wright is an associate professor at Dalhousie University, Canada, where she has played a pivotal role in the successful creation of the Environmental Science Program and co-creation of the university’s new and innovative College of Sustainability. She serves on the editorial boards of the International Journal of Sustainability in Higher Education, and the Encyclopaedia of Quality of Life Research, is a Member of the Scientific Advisory Board for Environmental Management for Sustainable Universities (EMSU), and is a co-organizer for World Sustainable Development Teach-In Day.

OTHER AUTHORS OF THIS REPORT

Maik Adomssent, Research Fellow, Institute for Environmental and Sustainability Communication, University of Luneburg.

Eduardo Aponte, Professor and researcher, Higher Education Research Centre and UNESCO Chair in Higher Education, University of Puerto Rico.
Irena Ateljevic, Assistant Professor, Social-spatial Analysis Department, Wageningen University.

Sonia Bahri, Chief for Science, Technology and Innovations Policies and Reforms Science Sector, UNESCO.

Aristides Baloi, Department of Geography, Universidade Eduardo Mondlane.

Sjur Bergan, Head of the Department of Higher Education and History Teaching, Council of Europe.

Alicia Betts, Project manager, Catalan Association of Public Universities.

Cristina Bolívar, Manager, Cris Bolívar Consulting.

Miguel Ángel Chacón, Associate professor at the Universidad de San Carlos de Guatemala.

Kiran B. Chhokar, Programme Director, Higher Education, Centre for Environment Education and Co-Editor of the Journal of Education for Sustainable Development.

Yazmín Cruz, Project Manager, GUNi’s Secretariat, UPC.

Gulelat Desse, Director of the Food Science and Nutrition Program, Addis Ababa University.

Carole Desprès, Professor of Architecture and Coordinator of the Interdisciplinary research group on suburbs, Laval University.

Jana Dlouhá, Environment Centre, Charles University.

Lorna Down, Lecturer, Institute of Education, University of the West Indies.

Cristina Escrigas, Executive Director, GUNi’s Secretariat, UPC.

Zinaida Fadeeva, Associate fellow, Education for Sustainable Development Programme, Institute of Advanced Studies, United Nations University.

Sonia Fernández-Lauro, Poet and former Chief Documentalist of UNESCO.

Jo-Anne Ferreira, Director of the EcoCentre and Convenor of the Master of Environment (Education for Sustainability) program, Griffith University.

Didac Ferrer, Coordinator of Campus Sustainability Plans, Organization Area, UPC.

André Fortin, Professor at the Sociology Department, Laval University.

David Francis, Professor of African Peace and Conflict Studies, University of Bradford.

Moacir Gadotti, Associate Professor at the University of Sao Paulo and Director of the Paulo Freire Institute.

Laima Galkute, Research and Higher Education Monitoring and Analysis Centre, Lithuanian Ministry of Education and Science.

Gilberto Gallopín, Independent scholar and former Regional Adviser on Environmental Policies, United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC).

Nadja Gmelch, Project Manager, Catalan Association of Public Universities.

Edgar González Gaudiano, Tenured researcher, Veracruzana University, coordinator of the UNESCO Chair of Citizenship, Education and Environmental Sustainability of Development and member of UNESCO’s Reference Group for the UN DESD.

Jesús Granados Sánchez, Research and Content Coordinator, GUNi’s Secretariat, UPC.

John Holmberg, Professor and vice-president at Chalmers University of Technology, UNESCO chair in Education in Sustainable Development and member of UNESCO expert panel for the UN DESD.

Barbara Ibrahim, Founding director of the John D. Gerhart Center for Philanthropy and Civic Engagement, American University in Cairo.

Mireya Imaz, Director, Environmental Programme, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México.

Peter Kanyandago, Director of the School of Postgraduate Studies, Uganda Martyrs University.

Steve Larkin, Pro-Vice-Chancellor of Charles Darwin University and Chair of Indigenous Higher Education Advisory Council, Australia.

Walter Leal-Filho, Senior Professor, London Metropolitan University; Head of the Research and Transfer Centre ‘Applications of Life Sciences’, Hamburg University of Applied Sciences, and Founding editor of the International Journal of Sustainability in Higher Education.

Claudia Lenz, Research and Development coordinator, European Wergeland Centre.

Rodrigo Lozano, Managing director, Organisational Sustainability Ltd and Lecturer, Sustainability Research Institute School of Earth and Environment, University of Leeds.

Clemens Mader, Director, RCE for Sustainable Development, University of Graz, and member of the management team, COPERNICUS Alliance.

Marlene Mader (formerly Trummler), Research associate, RCE for Sustainable Development, and Department of Geography and Regional Sciences, University of Graz.

Evangelos Manolas, Associated Professor, Democritus University of Thrace.

Daniel Mato, Project coordinator, Tres de Febrero National University and International Institute for Higher Education in Latin America and the Caribbean.

Gerd Michelsen, Vice-Chair, COPERNICUS Alliance and head of the Institute for Environmental and Sustainability Communication, University of Luneburg.

Goolam Mohamedbhai, former President, International Association of Universities.

Bedr˘ich Moldan, Head of the Environment Centre, Charles University.

Ingrid Mulà, Researcher, International Research Institute in Sustainability, University of Gloucestershire.

Karel Mulder, Head of the unit of Technology Dynamics & Sustainable Development, Delft University of Technology.

Claudio Naranjo, Philosopher and Director of SAT Educa Programme.

Stefan Nortier, Trainer, Education and Competence Studies Group, Wageningen University.

María Novo, UNESCO Chair in Environmental Education and Sustainable Development at the National Distance Education University.

Akpezi Obuigwe, Head of Environmental Education and Training, Division of Environmental Policy Implementation, UNEP-Nairobi.

Is-Haq Oloyede, Professor of Islamic jurisprudence and Vice-Chancellor, University of Ilorin.

M. Laura Ortiz, Leader of the Environmental Research Lab, Universidad Autónoma del Estado de Morelos and General Secretary of the Mexican Consortium of University Environmental Programmes for Sustainable Development.

Agustí Pérez-Foguet, Commissioner of sustainability, cooperation and development, Universitat Politècnica de Catalunya.

Ana Perona-Fjeldstad, Executive director, European Wergeland Centre.

Scott Peters, Associate Professor of Education, Cornell University.

Paul Raskin, President and founder, Tellus Institute.

Dzulfiqar Abdul Razak, Vice-chancellor, University Sains Malaysia.

Negussie Retta, Dean of the Science Faculty and director of the Food, Science and Nutrition Program, Addis Ababa University.

Paul Rowland, Executive Director, Association for the Advancement of Sustainability in Higher Education.

Roger Schank, Professor Emeritus, Northwestern University and CEO of Socratic Arts and Engines for Education.

Lisa Schwarzin, Coordinator, Initiative for Transformative Sustainability Education, Wageningen University.

Michael Scoullos, Coordinator, Mediterranean Education Initiative for Environment and Sustainability (MEdIES), University of Athens.

Rajib Shaw, Associate Professor, Graduate School of Global Environmental Studies, University of Tokyo.

Jeymi Sivoli, Project Officer, GUNi’s Secretariat, UPC.

Magdalena Svanström, Director, Learning Center, Chalmers University.

Aurea C. Tanaka, Research Associate, Institute of Advanced Studies, United Nations University, Yokohama.

Geneviève Vachon, Professor, Architecture School, Laval University.

Hilligje Van’t Land, Director Membership and Programme Development, International Association of Universities.

Josep M. Vilalta, Executive secretary, Catalan Association of Public Universities.

Tom Waas, Research Fellow, Human Ecology Department, Vrije Universiteit Brussels.

Arjen E.J. Wals, Professor of Social Learning and Sustainable Development and UNESCO Chair in Social Learning and Sustainable Development, Wageningen University.
Aurora Winslade, Director of Sustainability, University of California.

Masaru Yarime, Associate Professor, Graduate programme in Sustainability Science, University of Tokyo.

Zióle Zanotto Malhadas, Senior Professor, Universidade Federal do Paraná.

Friedrich Zimmermann, Chair, Department of Geography and Regional Science, University of Graz, and President, COPERNICUS Alliance.