E Pluribus Unum for SDGs: Galician Universities Working Together for Sustainable Development.

Míguez Martín, Vanessa; Agrafojo Fernández, Javier; Longueira Matos, Silvana; Pastoriza Rozas, Xosé Luís; Mahou Lago, Xosé María
They both live in A Coruña
Galician University System: 3 public universities
1495-1504: University of Santiago de Compostela
1990 Independence Day: 3 universities with 7 campuses
From unity to cooperation... I figure
2014: RGCUD, Galician Network for University Cooperation for Development (awareness-raising, training, research, teaching innovation, etc.)
Poverty and Famine are not World Heritage: Cosmopolitan Dreams
Global challenges and threats
Global solidarity duties from local roots
Commitment with Humanity vs tragedy of indifference
New goals for our common future: SDGs
Plurality and diversity of choices: common destination
A bulk of contributions: Milladoiro experience
Strategic Plan (2020-2030): 5 priorities

1. To contribute to ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and to promote lifelong learning opportunities for all.

2. To propel the generation and transference of knowledge through research, development and innovation activities that bring solutions to the problems and challenges of sustainable human development in the five spheres of the 2030 Agenda (people, planet, prosperity, peace and partnerships).

3. To promote the capacity development of higher education institutions, research centres and public administrations in developing countries.

4. To incentivise partnerships and networking with development actors in the field of University Cooperation for Development, 2030 Agenda and SDGs.

5. To make global citizens committed to social transformation, human rights, volunteering, solidarity, culture of peace and sustainable human development.
Strategic Plan (2020-2030): 5 management outcomes

1. Galician public universities incorporate the principles, values and objectives of sustainable human development to their governance, planning and management.

2. Galician public universities integrate in the education of the university community the competencies and subjects related to equitable, inclusive and sustainable development required for the making of an active and critical global citizenship committed with positive social change.

3. Galician public universities promote the generation and transference of knowledge in the field of sustainable development including the vision and challenges of the 2030 Agenda in all its spheres (people, prosperity, planet, peace and partnerships).

4. RGCUD strengthens its institutional capacity.

5. Galician university community and citizens get access to quality information on collective achievements in the field of the University Cooperation for Development and the realization of the SDGs by Galician Public Universities.
Thank you so much!